Advice to investors – COVID-19 update May 2020

Dear Investors

The Compass Directors met recently to receive a report on the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on the operations of the Compass program.

Compass and the services we deliver are considered essential activities by the Victorian Government. The impact of COVID-19 on Compass Leaving Care has been manageable at the time of writing, and the health and wellbeing of participants and staff remains our highest priority. Protocols are in place in the event that a Compass participant or team member tests positive to COVID-19, and we will continue to monitor the situation carefully.

The young people participating in the Compass Program continue to receive support from key workers. It is essentially business as usual, with modified practice to accommodate social distancing and reduce the risk of transmission among participants and staff. This group of young people is comfortable communicating via technology and has adapted well to the increased use of phone and other apps for contact in the current environment.

Compass continues to accept referrals and is engaging with young people newly referred via phone and other apps.

Please contact Compass Leaving Care at info@compassleavingcare.org.au if you would like any additional information.
